The encouragement in the message sent by selecting a rural location has to do with personal accountability, wise investment of personal pfd checks, wise investments on the PF Corp's part, need for resource development wealth to trickle down to individual Alaskans because it's OUR oil, pfd checks will help with outrageous energy costs in rural...

This ties in with our agenda of personal responsiblity, need for AGIA and other developments...

Subject: PFD Announcement

Governor,

As we discussed last night, you would like the announcement of the PFD amount this year to be made in the bush rather than a big ballroom in Anchorage or Fairbanks. Based on our discussion, I got the impression that you would like to be there to make the announcement. The announcement should be made September 19, 20, or 21.

I asked the PFD folks to look at some statistics to see if any bush community stands out in any way. So far, I have the following:

Scammon Bay has the highest percentage of kids applying for PFD's (52.5%).

If we're just looking for a rural hub to use, and we stick to the AK Air locations, we can choose from: Kotzebue, Nome, Barrow, King Salmon, Bethel, and Dillingham.

Let me know how you want to proceed.

-Pat

Are we ready to go on soldiers' hunts that they'd be missing since their deployment was extended?
